Martin Luther King Jr. Honored By Memorials

By The Associated Press

Memorial observances to honor Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. on the anniversary of his assassination are planned Friday by school, church, civic and civil rights groups in cities around the nation.

It was April 4, 1968, that King stood at a Lorraine Motel balcony in Memphis, Tenn. A bullet whined from the direction of the setting sun and took his life.

In Memphis, up to 18,000 people are expected to march at high noon to the motel and then to city hall where King's successor as head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, will memorialize King.

King's widow, Coretta King, was scheduled to speak at the Memphis memorial but said she may instead spend the day quietly at home with her children.

Day Of Memorial

In Washington, Mayor Walter Washington proclaimed Friday "a day of memorial" and urged residents of the predominantly black city to "honor the memory of Dr. King through appropriate services, programs and observances."

In Cleveland, about 200 persons attended a combined commemoration service Wednesday for King and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, also the victim of an assassin's bullet. A $25 million housing project was renamed the Martin Luther King-Robert Kennedy Homes.

New York Mayor John V.

Lindsay announced that five young men who have been active in Harlem civil rights groups will officially represent the city at the service in Memphis. Lindsay said King "has become a symbol of triumph and hope."

Detroit public schools alerted all regional superintendents that a "suitable memorial should be made." Schools will be in session.

Michigan State University's Black Student Alliance planned a telephone hookup with services in Atlanta, Ga., followed by a university-wide teach-in on the contributions of King.

Dr. King Sr., Speaker

In Atlanta, a loose coalition of civil rights and antiwar groups planned a voter registration drive as part of a "day of commemoration." A 40-hour vigil on the steps of the state capitol begins in the evening.

A mass rally in Gary, Ind., was planned by the Baptist Ministers Conference in a midtown Negro district. Mayor Richard G. Hatcher, a Negro, was one of the invited speakers.

In Chicago, the Rev. Jesse L. Jackson, national director of SCLC's Operation Breadbasket, said ministers in the operation would hold services for King at various neighborhood centers.

Dr. Martin Luther King Sr. was scheduled to speak at a Good Friday service commemorating his son in suburban Evanston.

Commission To Study Aid For All Schooling

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken today announced establishment of a commission to spearhead a drive for sweeping educational reforms and vowed that—if necessary—he would call a special legislative session this fall to implement recommendations.

As for aid to nonpublic schools, Milliken told a joint session of the Legislature that "if any nonpublic school aid bill is passed, it should be passed with only a nominal appropriation to allow time to test its constitutionality."

The commission would be small in number, Milliken said, and would include "some of Michigan's leading citizens whose judgment and recommendations would be highly respected by educators and the general public."

Milliken urged immediate adoption of his proposal to increase school aid this year by $85 million.

"It would not be responsible to attempt now to rewrite the state aid formula," Milliken said, "because school districts must know immediately how much state money they can expect this year."

Opposed To Tax

"It would not be responsible to ask the people to accept a state income tax increase for schools without being able to assure them at the same time of a benefit increase. It is very clear to me that the people today are strongly opposed to further taxes," he said.

The educational reform commission, the governor said, "will be directed, under my chairmanship, to devise an educational reform package for elementary and secondary education and to complete this task by Sept. 30."

"If you, as a Legislature, are in session in October, I will then submit to you my proposals on educational reform and urge your prompt consideration of them."

"If you have adjourned," he said, "I will call you to a special session for this specific purpose."

Total Reform

"What is clearly needed is solid and total reform of many parts of our educational system, and a clear blueprint for the future," he said.

"I believe that there is a basic issue underlying most educational problems whether they concern taxes, teachers, students or community control," the governor said. "That issue is the lack of educational objectives or goals."

The governor said his plan would "permit us immediately to adopt the enriched school aid formula proposed in my budget, while at the same time we begin to move toward total educational reform this fall."

The commission, Milliken said, would be asked to develop:

- Specific goals of the educational system and criteria for assessing its accomplishments.
- More effective use of school facilities.
- Incentives
- Improved utilization of technological advances.
- Incentives for rewarding teaching excellence.
- Improved management and consideration of optimum size of school districts.
- A more equitable and more adequate system of financing education.
- A proper balance between college preparatory and vocational education, directly related to needs of students and society.

Milliken said the financial plight of nonpublic schools could be considered only in the context of the state's total education picture.

"I believe that the existence

Nixon Spending Easter Holiday In Florida

KEY BISCAIYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon, while seeking Easter holiday relaxation at his bayside home here, plans to spend part of the weekend reviewing domestic policy problems.

Flying with him to Florida Wednesday from funeral services in Kansas for Dwight D. Eisenhower were John D. Ehrlichman, White House counsel and a key figure in domestic policy planning, and Bryce N. Harlow, special assistant for congressional liaison.

Their presence underlined the weekend emphasis on home front matters.

However, Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said there was a possibility that Nixon's assistant for national security affairs, Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, might fly down from Washington at some point in the next few days.

Mrs. Nixon and daughter Tricia accompanied the chief executive to Kansas and Florida. David and Julie Nixon Eisenhower originally had planned to fly here with them after the services for David's grandfather. They decided to ride back east on the funeral train with other members of the Eisenhower family. They are expected to join the first family here Friday and remain through Easter Sunday.

The Nixons are expected to return to Washington Sunday night or Monday morning.

Available for the use of the President and his family was the 64-foot cabin cruiser "Julie," which caught Nixon's fancy on his last visit here in March. The cruiser is a government craft.

This was Mrs. Nixon's first visit to Key Biscayne as first lady. The home she and her husband are using as a residence—the other is an office—is being decorated and she is expected to contribute to that undertaking during her stay.

Peace Surrounds Ike's Burial Site

ABILENE, Kan. (AP) — The little town of Dwight D. Eisenhower's boyhood and burial is still.

The body of its greatest son lies at peace in the tranquil little chapel near the home where he grew up.

A spray of yellow gladiolas lies on the marble slab covering the vault where the body rests in its plain, GI coffin.

They were left by Mamie in final, tender tribute to the 33 years she had been his wife.

Desolate, the widow, who had carried herself with grace and dignity through five wrenching days of national tribute, wearily retraced today the route of the funeral train back to the East.

This time, there was no flag-draped coffin to accompany her in a nearby baggage car. Her companions were family, friends, a few military officers, and the Secret Service bodyguard that was an echo of her eight years as First Lady to the 34th president of the United States.

Children Play

At the chapel on Buckeye Street, near the entrance to the Eisenhower Center where there used to be only a cornfield, no impressive crowds swarmed after Wednesday's funeral to see the general's tomb.

Less than an hour after the tearful widow had left the burial service, the Stars and Stripes folded and crushed to her bosom, laughing children were romping in the playground outside the little Lincoln grammar school a few yards away.

By the Army's estimate, 100,000 persons overflowed the town of 8,000 for the final tribute. A massive exodus took place before nightfall.

Two guards from the General Services Administration, which runs the Eisenhower complex, had replaced the scores of trim soldiers who had formed a cordon around the grounds a few hours earlier.

Final Visit

Mamie Eisenhower paid a final visit before boarding the special train. Two hours after the service ended, she and other close family returned to see for the first time how the scene would appear to posterity. The workmen had completed their tasks with brisk efficiency after the service.

Although the 72-year-old widow had left earlier in anguish, her step faltering, she was now composed. She walked erect, the funeral veil removed, her eyes dry, her expression peaceful.

Instant Traffic Jam

Francine Takes Another Stroll

NEW YORK (AP) — Francine Gottfried, the busty Brooklyn girl who wowed Wall Street last summer, still has her old drawing power. She tried a springtime stroll in a bright red sweater. The result—an instant traffic jam.

Francine, 21, is an $85-a-week business machine operator whose measurements are 43-25-37. This fact drew crowds of up to 15,000 admiring men last September when word spread that she appeared at the same subway station each day.

Since then she has used alternate routes to get to work and avoided gathering crowds. But for assurance that she retains her magnetic powers, Francine took the old route again for this week.

Surrounded

Within moments after she stepped out of the subway she was surrounded by hundreds of men. Traffic stopped in the street.

She delightfully answered questions, shook hands and kissed one man who told her,

Today's Chuckle

Police Collect Violent Hippies At Palm Springs

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — City police backed by reinforcements from up to 100 miles away tried to put the lid on this desert resort today after two days of violence and evicting—in some cases nude—by thousands of vacationing youths and girls.

Nearly 300 persons had been arrested, most of them for drunkenness or disturbing the peace. The city jail was crammed. One man was detained on a charge of statutory rape of a girl teen-ager.

Police and deputy sheriffs marshaled forces for a sweep today through Tahquitz Canyon west of Palm Springs. There, large groups of hippies and students had gathered, many to sunbathe and swim without clothing.

After a rock music show Wednesday night, police fired gunshots into the air and tear gas to quell rampaging crowds. Rocks and bottles hit several officers and broke windows of cars. In the melee, police said, a local man shot and wounded a boy and girl with a rifle.

The encounter came as 5,000 youths gathered outside a baseball park while 10,000 others inside listened to rock music. Those outside tried to rush the gates, were repelled by police and hurled missiles.

Police Lt. Ted Greene had this version of the troublemaking:

"Generally, they're an antagonistic group, a bunch of rowdy hippies. I don't think they're students, they're just bums. They don't have anybody. They live in cars and they don't know what to do with themselves."

Of those arrested one-third were under 18.

Hart Asking Lakeshore Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate Appropriations subcommittee was asked today by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., to add $1.2 million to the federal budget for development of national recreation areas in Michigan.

The requests included: —$614,000 for Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore near Munising.

—$200,000 for Big-Sea-Water Recreation Area at Sault Ste. Marie.

—$320,000 for Lake Michigan Area north of Ludington.

Hart also asked approval of $232,500 for construction of a visitor-information center at Sylvania Recreation Area; $300,000 for research on timber at Michigan Technological University; and $250,000 for research to determine what social benefits would result from supervised camping activities in national forests for city residents from slum areas.

Reds Threaten Use Of Troops

PRAGUE (AP) — Moscow told Czechoslovakia's leaders to prevent further anti-Soviet demonstrations or Soviet occupation troops would step in, foreign newsmen have been told.

The message was brought to Prague by Soviet Defense Minister Andrei Grechko and Deputy Foreign Minister Vladimir S. Semyonov who arrived on Monday.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the two were sent "on instructions of the Soviet government." Since their arrival they have met several times with the leaders of the Czechoslovak Communist party.

Foreign newsmen were told the ultimatum they brought gave Czechoslovak authorities a choice between halting further anti-Soviet demonstrations on their own or asking for help from some of the estimated 70,000 Soviet troops here since their invasion last August.

If tighter security measures were not taken the ultimatum is reported to have said, Soviet tanks would run the demonstrators down.

Moscow's crackdown was prompted by anti-Soviet demonstrations in a number of cities last week after Czechoslovakia's hockey team defeated the Soviet Union's players in a match at Stockholm, Sweden.

Indict 7 Black Panthers In N.Y.

Uncover Conspiracy To Bomb Five Stores

NEW YORK (AP) — Police searched today for seven members of the Black Panther party accused with 14 other members of plotting to bomb five Manhattan department stores, a commuter railroad line and a police station.

Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan, announcing the indictment of the Panthers Wednesday, said the attacks were planned for today—when stores are filled with Easter shoppers—and were intended to strike "the white power structure."

Morning Raid

The 21 Panthers were indicted on charges of conspiracy to murder, arson and weapons violations.

Teams of police, heavily armed and wearing bulletproof vests, netted 12 suspects in early morning raids Wednesday. Two others were in custody in a Newark N.J., jail.

The 12 defendants pleaded innocent before Supreme Court Justice Charles Marks, who held them in $100,000 bail each, despite their lawyers' protest that the bail was excessive and unconstitutional.

Hogan said the defendants plotted to:

—Bomb Macy's, Alexander's, Bloomingdale's, Korvette's and Abercrombie & Fitch, and fire guns into the store.

One Escapes

—Dynamite the tracks of the Penn Central Railroad at six points in The Bronx.

—Bomb a Bronx police station to divert police from the railroad bombings.

"They agreed to assassinate police officers by bombs and guns and planned a number of other coordinated acts of violence," Hogan told a news conference.

Police said they confiscated a number of guns, three home-made bombs, a five-pound can of blasting powder, bomb parts, a knife and a dagger.

None of the 12 arrested offered resistance, police said, but one man escaped by jumping 35 feet from his apartment window and running off.

Police officials said agents had infiltrated the Panthers three years ago.

Homes For Elderly:

Tower Apartments Ready In One Year

Razing of structures at the site of apartment housing for elderly persons of low income will begin on Monday, April 7, and the building will be completed and ready for occupancy in the spring of 1970.

Blumenfeld & Rakita, a Milwaukee based turnkey developer, today said it has completed acquisition of property in the 500 block on the south side of Ludington St. for the purpose of developing the tower apartment.

The structure of masonry and steel will be 18 stories and will have 176 units for the elderly.

Under the turnkey method, the developers will turn over the completed apartment dwelling to the Escanaba Housing Commission, and the federal loan that financed the building will be repaid from rentals over a period of 40 years.

Court House Site

Blumenfeld & Rakita is experienced in the field of developing housing for the elderly. The firm delivered 13-story two towers consisting of 251 units to the Milwaukee Housing Authority in July 1968.

Construction contractors on the project is the Stevens Construction Co. of Milwaukee. A sub-contractor, Joseph Krygowski of Menominee, will clear the site for the new tower apartment here and excavate for the basement of the structure.

Some of the existing buildings at the site (the east two thirds of the 500 block) will be razed and others will be removed.

The Housing Commission is negotiating with the city to obtain the former Delta County court house site as an area to which some of the dwellings may be removed.

CW Transport Moving

The major commercial building in the 500 block of Ludington St., is the CW Transport trucking terminal and offices at the corner of Ludington and S. 5th St.

There has been a trucking terminal there for some 40 years, dating back to L. & L. Trucking, the original owner. Olson Transportation bought out L. & L. in 1958 and CW Transport acquired Olson in 1968.

Now CW Transport has a new and modern and expanded trucking terminal completed at 2101 N. 19th St., and the present facility at the low income housing project site will be abandoned. The move to the new terminal will be made on Saturday, and the wreckers are scheduled to come in starting Monday.

The housing projects for elderly of low income are financed by federal funds, which are repaid from rentals, and there is no cost to local spinners.

The apartments will rent for under $50 a month. To be eligible, tenants must be 62 years or older and have income limited to not more than $3,000 a year if single and $3,500 for a couple, and meet other requirements. It is not a nursing home.

Dogs Prevail In Marinette

MARINETTE — Dogs in Marinette barked their approval Wednesday to results of Tuesday's municipal election which affirmed their right to bark.

By a 700 vote margin, voters defeated a referendum calling for enactment of an ordinance under which dogs would have been "forbidden to bark in the City of Marinette in a loud manner, sufficiently loud so as to disturb residents of the city..."

No Health Hazard

Resume Coho Planting

LANSING (AP) — The Department of Natural Resources said today it plans to resume spring salmon plantings in Lake Michigan streams, acting upon the assumption that Coho and Chinook salmon taken from the lake are safe to eat.

The department issued a temporary stop order on the new releases of salmon last week after 22,555 pounds of frozen Coho shipped into Michigan from Wisconsin and Minnesota for commercial sale were impounded by the Food and Drug Administration.

The federal agency said samples of the fish contained high levels of two insecticides, DDT and dieldrin.

Subsequent conferences, the state department said, indicate there is no health hazard involved in eating salmon taken from Lake Michigan's open waters.

Department director Ralph MacMullan said fish caught in Lake Michigan haven't shown anywhere near the levels of DDT and dieldrin that appeared in fish caught in stream weirs.

"This being the case, we have every reason to go ahead with our salmon releases for Lake Michigan streams this spring," MacMullan said.

One of the reasons for continuing the plantings, MacMullan said, is to help restore the balance between prey and predator fish in Lake Michigan.

The salmon are seen as a key factor in control of alewife. "We have a tremendous responsibility to try our best to rehabilitate Lake Michigan's fishery and our salmon program figures prominently in those efforts," MacMullan said.

MacMullan said the State of Michigan, Michigan State University, federal agencies and neighboring states are keeping a close check on the pesticide levels found in salmon.

Evaluation Ends At High School

By DAVE ANDREWS

Despite popular belief, accreditation of Escanaba Area High School did not necessarily hang in balance this week during the inspection visit of a North Central Association evaluation team.

Albert Treado of Kingsford, chairman of the 18-member team of Upper Peninsula educators who spent Tuesday and Wednesday in the high school, said Wednesday that the determination of whether Escanaba "remains or is removed" from the accredited list of high schools was not the primary purpose of the visit.

"We're just here to see that they evaluate themselves," he said. "Of course, if we find a bad area I'd be obliged to report it."

Treado, who made a brief report to teachers of the high school at the close of the two-day inspection Wednesday afternoon, said the final report from North Central Association probably will not be completed for several weeks. That report, he said, will be prepared by NCA staff members in Ann Arbor based on evaluations submitted by team members and also members of the school administration.

One of the big values of the visit, Treado said, is that members of the faculty and administration must prepare the evaluation criteria, providing the opportunity for an exhaustive review and critical look at the school program. There also is the opportunity to exchange ideas with other educators.

Visits to high schools come every seven years by a North Central Association team. For the other six years, reports are prepared by the school principals and administrators.

Treado said the evaluation team works from the "Philosophy and Objectives" statement prepared by the local staff and attempts "to see if what they say is true" about the school program.

He said that team members do not attempt to judge teachers, but instead look for things like the attitude of the class and the level of the course offering.

The visit of the evaluation team climaxed a year preparation by the Escanaba Area High School staff and administration.

and strength of private schools is essential to educational choice in Michigan," he said.

Need New Forms

However, he added, "I do not believe that we can, in good conscience, raise taxes to aid nonpublic schools and their 300,000 students without also considering new sources of revenue for public schools and their more than two million students."

Milliken said the state's responsibility for maintaining private education "has not been established, either constitutionally or legislatively."

The Legislature's first order of business, he said, should be to decide whether sound public policy requires additional forms of aid to nonpublic schools.

Chicago Steel Buildup Helps Escanaba

Cleveland Cliffs Works On Big U.P. Ore Project

Iron ore production continues the stable base of growth for Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co., it states in its annual report by President H. Stuart Harrison of Cleveland, although the company is engaged in many diversified mineral development projects.

CCI reports that in line with its policy of increasing partnership participation in its large iron ore reserves on the Marquette Range, it has sold an additional 8 per cent interest in the Empire Mine at Palmer to Inland Steel Co.

(Inland increased its interest in the huge Empire Iron Mining Co. from 32 to 40 per cent, effective Jan. 2. Inland also has substantial interests in the Wabash Project in Labrador and Butler Taconite in Minnesota. Pellets now supply 65 per cent of Inland iron ore requirements for steelmaking.)

Owens Large Reserves
Cleveland Cliffs retains a 20 per cent interest in Empire and it owns in fee a large part of the reserves of the mine operation, which it manages.

"Our company owns extensive iron ore reserves which we believe are the second largest holdings in the Lake Superior. (U.S. Steel Co. is the largest holder of iron reserves in the district.) It is our primary goal to bring these reserves into production as rapidly as possible, and partnership with consumers provides the most effective way of accomplishing this.

"One attraction of these Marquette Range reserves is their distinct transportation cost advantage over the Minnesota and Canada ores for shipment to the fast-growing steel industry in the Chicago area."

Escanaba Trend

(Editor's note: This proximity is what has given the Chicago & North Western Railway's new Escanaba Ore Terminal such a bright prospect of increased ore handling through the port of Escanaba, with more pellets ore from the Marquette Range moving to Escanaba for Lake Michigan shipment and less from Marquette by way of Lake Superior.)

"Over the years," stated Harrison "the iron ore industry has changed a great deal and our company has pioneered many of these changes. Although our research program has been expanded to include the non-ferrous minerals, we are maintaining an intensive program in iron ore. The most important phase of this program at the present time is the development of a process to recover the iron mineral from a large ore body which we own in Michigan. The laboratory results have been satisfactory and larger scale testing is underway. We anticipate commercial production of this reserve in 1975."

Steel Mergers

Harrison reported that there has been increasing interest in recent months by companies outside the steel industry in acquiring interests in steel producers. Early last year, Ling Temco-Vought, Inc., purchased a 63 per cent interest in Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. We sold 71 per cent of our investment in the latter, realizing an extraordinary gain of $5.8 million after tax. (Ling Temco-Vought has caught the eye of the federal government as one of the fast expanding conglomerate companies which have a large share of the armament industry.)

"More recently offers have been made to acquire Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co., in

Wages Boosted

CCI signed a wage agreement with the United Steelworkers Union in August, 1968 which will increase its employment costs 20 per cent over the next three years.

It is continuing uranium exploration in the Powder River Basin in Wyoming but hasn't yet outlined a commercial ore body. Getty Oil Co. and Skelly Oil Co. have become CCI partners in this project, and CCI has joined with Union Pacific Railroad in Hanna Basin, Wyoming exploration.

CCI, Ohio Petroleum Co. and Oil Shale Corp. sold a 30 per cent interest in their oil shale project to Atlantic Richfield Co. in 1968 at a profit of $2.3 million.

Exploratory drilling for nickel continues in Australia. CCI's first Canadian operation, the new iron pellet plant at the Sherman Mine in Ontario, started up in March, 1968 and was producing at the rate of one million tons of pellets annually in June.

Varnum Praises Dr. Spathelf's Action At Ferris

State Representative Charles H. Varnum (R-Manistique) said today he wanted to make it very clear that comments by the chairman of the House Colleges and Universities Committee calling for the censure of Ferris State College President Victor Spathelf were the opinions of the chairman and not his.

"I found Dr. Spathelf's explanation of what happened during recent campus disorders extremely honest and completely believable," Varnum said.

"Testimony taken from Michigan State Police Officials corroborated Dr. Spathelf's testimony as far as I am concerned. His decisive action prevented an ugly situation from getting out of hand, as I see it," Varnum continued.

"I can't see how the chairman of the Colleges and Universities Committee could make any decision to censure on the testimony given," Varnum said. "I believe, like most citizens in Michigan believe, that the firm action taken by Dr. Spathelf prevented further violence and disorder."

Varnum is the "minority chairman" of the Colleges and Universities Committee, appointed to that position by House Republican Leader Robert E. Waldron.

Liquor Licenses For Golf Courses

LANSING (AP) — The State Liquor Control Commission could issue additional resort licenses to golf courses that "stimulate and promote" the Michigan tourist industry under terms of a bill introduced Wednesday in the Senate.

The measure, sponsored by Sen. Oscar Bouwsma, R-Muskegon, would authorize the commission to issue resort licenses to established golf courses which are open to the public and have been in operation for at least two years.

"Economic development factors in the area" would be taken into consideration as the commission decided on license issuances.

Based on the availability of funds, the agency was also authorized to proceed with a project to provide two visiting home maker aides in each of the three counties. The aides, who would be given a period of training, would assist indigent mothers in food preparation, budgeting, purchasing, and maintenance of homes.

Jimmy Bruce, National Youth Corps and Head Start director, reported that the maximum number of work slots, 29 in all, for children who are school dropouts have been filled.

Bruce said enrollment is underway for summer Head Start programs for 150 children in 10 centers in the tri-county area.

LaPorte said educational, industry and agency leaders would meet April 15, at 2 p. m. CST in the State Office Building under sponsorship of the CAA and Michigan Employment Security Commission to seek solutions to manpower problems. The recommendations of the group will be incorporated into a state master plan. The public is invited to attend.

He was charged with breaking and entering Sodergren's Superette at Danforth.

LaFleur, who remained free on personal bond, was ordered to return to Circuit Court at 9:30 a. m. Monday, April 21, for sentencing. Trial of the case began Wednesday morning.

In another case, Stephen J. Branstrom, 17, Perkins, pleaded innocent to a charge of obstructing conservation officers in performance of their duty. Trial is scheduled during the June term of court.

Escanaba's Growth

Escanaba this year welcomes a large increase in its tax valuation.

Charles Schmidt, city assessor, told the Escanaba Board of Tax Review that the city will have an apparent increase in valuation from $36.7 million to $38.9 million over 1968. The change isn't definite yet, because the State Tax Commission has the final say and it doesn't meet until May 26.

Ideally, as a community grows it should be generating new tax value which will pay for the growth of the municipal services necessary to serve the enlarging community. City growth creates problems of more streets to construct and maintain, more sewers, more electric service, policing, fire protection, schools, welfare services, etc.

There are two ways in which valuation can grow:

1. By creation of new homes, stores, industrial plants, etc.
2. By increasing the valuation of existing homes, stores, industrial plants, etc. (The State Tax Commission is constantly sampling property sales to detect rising values and it raises the state equalized valuation of the community to reflect these changes. The process, of course, is greatly speeded by our current inflation.)

The $2.1 million increase in Escanaba's tax valuation is the greatest of any year in the more than a century of community history.

It should, hopefully, provide more income to the city for capital improvements. These are the city's investments in new and improved facilities like paving, sewers, etc.

But City Manager George Harvey informs the city council that the city's estimated income from taxes on the enlarged tax base is $1.7 million and that to balance income and spending he'll have to trim $580,000 worth of work from his capital improvement program.

Items like a $19,000 increase in the cost of operating the city's new Catherine Bonifas Civic Center contribute to the increased cost, but the lion's share of it is wage demands.

City employee wages have gone up yearly since 1964, a big 9.9 per cent in 1966 as result of a wage survey. Pension systems now bug cities and other governmental units as much as wage hikes, and in some cases even more. Detroit, for instance, now pays into its police and firemen's pension fund a sum equal to 47 per cent of the payroll for these departments. Thus for one third of the outlay on these departments the city gets no services. Escanaba spends 23.18 per cent of payroll on police and firemen pensions.

"I am attempting to reduce expenditures to a point where they meet income," Harvey informed council "but this is going to take some doing and I trust that when some of these projects have been deleted, you will understand the reason."

The Press asked City Hall for a report on the city's capital spending in the last five years to attempt a determination if rising operating costs had resulted in a reduction of capital spending on city improvements. The figures aren't conclusive. Spending from the general fund, the water utility fund and the electric utility fund have fluctuated with the years.

General fund spending was $123,000 in 1964, and rose to $255,000 in 1965 and $360,000 in 1966, then dipped to $217,000 in 1967 and zoomed to $787,000 in 1968 with building of the Catherine Bonifas Civic Center.

Water utility spending dropped from $21,000 in 1964 to $12,900 in 1966, but was up to $114,500 in 1968 and faces up to a huge expansion of spending as the city faces the necessity of modernizing its water utility and waste water utility to conform with new anti-pollution standards. The city's electric utility was static in the $80,000 range in 1964-66 and then topped $100,000 in 1967 and '68.

Major capital spending has been on the Civic Center $300,000, airport $250,000, public parking lots $110,000 and $75,000 on streets, curbs and alleys.

As the city welcomes the economic and social growth which makes necessary these extensions of city facilities and services, we get some bitter with the sweet. We are trying to make local government more efficient, so that it provides more service for its greater cost, but this result is not complete. Even the enlarged valuation may not provide enough tax income to pay operating expenses of the city and finance a modest capital improvement program.

The tax rate may have to be raised. It has remained unchanged for 5 years at $14.50 but taxes were raised in 1967 when the city adopted state equalized valuation, so the net result was a tax boost, no matter how achieved.

Taxes are like scissors, one blade is the valuation and the other is the tax rate. If either is increased the tax bill goes up. If both are increased the taxpayer is cut deeper.

The people's representatives in local government find it increasingly difficult to cope with rising costs, just as managers of industry do. In some ways their job is even more difficult, because competition is the control on what business can pay and there's no such effective curb on government. Employee groups bring strong lobby pressures on local government and even moreso upon the State Legislature, which enacts benefits for policemen, firemen and other groups and then passes their costs along to local government to pay.

Thus the City of Escanaba gets $40,000 a year return from the state income tax, which was sold to the people in part as a relief from the property tax, but there is no prospect of property tax relief. It gets worse.

Huntsville, Ala. Is Jittery Over ABM

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (NEA) —This remarkable missile-and-space age boom town waits nervously while Congress argues the merits of a $6.5 billion ABM defense system and weighs appropriations for a projected 10 additional moon landings.

President Nixon's announcement of a limited ABM deployment cheered city leaders. Some 1,200 people are employed in development of the Sentinel ABM system at the 40,000-acre Redstone Arsenal complex. Any cut-off would be sharply felt.

Huntsville's citizenry has known since 1950, when the Army Missile Command was established here, that much of its economic fate has rested in the hands of Congress.

But it has never been edgier than now, with ABM under fire and the number of moon landings still really unsettled.

This town, which has zoomed from 15,000 in 1950 to an estimated 160,000 this year, nevertheless has an almost mystical faith in two things:

That Dr. Werner von Braun, director of the Marshall Space Flight Center at the Redstone complex, will not let it down but will pound on desks in Washington until fresh money for more big programs is allotted.

And, that Congress itself somehow will not allow all that steel and concrete, worth $500 million, to fall into disuse.

Huntsville's leaders, moreover, do not simply sit and fret while Congress talks. They have an industrial expansion committee which has just lured four major non-space-related plants to the area, not to mention other lesser good catches.

Today missile and space programs account for some 27,000 jobs at Huntsville, with non-space providing 15,000 but growing. One of the new industries expects to employ 8,000 people within two years. The expansion committee is hard after still more new plants.

Yet, curiously, this energetic effort to shore up the boom's economic base so it can withstand the shock of possible missile-space curtailments has its own real limits.

A new industry's search for manpower here is hurt so long as Redstone continues big, soaking up the labor pool and sustaining high wage levels. Right now Redstone draws workers from 18 counties in northern Alabama and adjacent Tennessee, some driving 120-mile round trips daily.

Huntsville is one of the rare places in Alabama where Negroes man many of the pumps at gas stations patronized by the white citizenry. Most of the whites who normally have those jobs work at the government complex.

No one who has observed the city leaders' aggressive spirit, however, expects them to yield easily in their battle for more non-space-related employment. Among the most driving are the older business leaders whose prominence here predates the missile era.

Clearly, reports of a serious downturn in Huntsville's arching economic curves are premature. In 1968, its commercial and residential construction came to $34.5 million against Birmingham's $50 million—striking when its 160,000 population is set against an estimated 350,000 for Alabama's industrial capital further south.

Admittedly, Huntsville earlier had twice surpassed Birmingham. But it is holding up well, and its ever-changing configuration of new factories, shops and office buildings gives it a rosy look.

Maybe the town is just going to be incredibly lucky. Some people felt that way when workmen, making test borings for the new county building downtown, struck oil.

But spokesmen at Redstone, where key officials work constantly with Huntsville leaders to help them build a lasting base, think the town is a quality place which makes its own luck and will somehow survive as a rich island in a lonely sea of woods and hills.

SULPHATE

Recently we heard that the Mead Corp., was planning to build a sulphate mill as part of their new multi-million dollar expansion program in Escanaba. We were alarmed that a sulphate mill with its noxious smell might be built in our area but in all fairness to a good industrial citizen of our community, we feel we should investigate before voicing any opposition.

This last weekend, we drove to Wisconsin Rapids to see a comparable new mill first hand. Our alarm has now turned to strong protest at the thought of the purest air in the country, according to a recent survey, becoming permeated with the noxious odor of rotten eggs.

On a beautiful clear low humidity day, the stench in Wisconsin Rapids was concentrated in a new residential district down wind from the high stacks. In interviews with a number of citizens, we were assured that the odors and smoke hit every area of the town at some time with the changing winds, and often all of the town and surrounding countryside on over-cast or foggy days.

Some residents claimed their trees and gardens were killed by the smog; their house, clothes and hair permeated with rotten eggs odor. We noticed clinging stench in entryways and stores in some of the "fall-out" areas.

These people were universally bitter as Consolidated Paper Co., who built this mill, had assured them there would be no unpleasant odor. What is more, this mill, like the prospective Escanaba mill, is mostly automated, offering very few jobs in exchange for making Wisconsin Rapids just another smelly paper mill town.

How can we let this happen to our community with our wealth of natural beauty, our unusual boat harbor, our beautiful churches and schools, our Pioneer Trail and Ludington parks, our clear streams and priceless outdoor recreational facilities? Those interested in tourism and residents of Pine Haven, Soo Hill, Groos, Wells and the prospective residents of the new Lake Bluff Development should be particularly alarmed as they will be sitting right on the stacks.

But all of us should be very concerned as we were told that under varying weather conditions, the revolting smell carries up to 15 miles which would pretty much take care of Escanaba, Gladstone, Rapid River, Cornell, Flat Rock, Kipling, Danforth and surrounding farm areas.

Anyone interested in first hand information on a town that sold out its pure air for a few dollars should visit Wisconsin Rapids and talk to its citizens.

Few Homey Hints On Keeping Friends

Dear Ann: Every member of our family reads your column religiously and has profited from your advice. But now and then you go off the deep end and cause trouble. Like that letter from Ned whose wife Peggy surprises him at the door every evening in a bikini, a see-through blouse, or maybe topless.

After my husband read that letter he said, "How come YOU never think of anything like that?"

Ned didn't mention children, so obviously they have none. But most typical families DO have kids and I'd like to know how in thunder a decent mother can do a nightly strip act with small fry running loose?

Your advice is still tops for day-to-day living, Ann, but please, don't give any more space to a dumb-dumb like Ned. Still Dressed At 5 P.M.

Dear Still Dressed: You're right, I'll take ten lashes with a G-string.

Dear Ann Landers: Thank you for printing the letter from the woman who was bored stiff listening to fat friends talk about their starvation diets. That letter gave me the impetus to write a letter I've composed in my mind at least 25 times. The subject: "A Few Homey Hints On How To Keep Friends Forever."

(1) Don't discuss your physical ailments with social acquaintances. They are not interested in your headaches, backaches, nervous spells, or the details of your recent surgery.

(2) Don't tell another woman how wonderful her husband is. And no matter how wonderful he is, don't take him aside and tell him your troubles. It will inevitably get back to his wife that you cried on his shoulder and that will fix you with her.

(3) Don't run down your husband. Such talk will not generate sympathy. It will make you look like a sniveling, disloyal, backbiting wife.

(4) Don't allow another woman to bum rap her husband in your presence. Change the subject. Most marriages fluctuate between good and not so good. The wife who tells you what a skunk her husband is will be sorry when she feels more kindly toward him and she'll then avoid you like the plague.

Friends are treasures. If you keep your friendships in good repair they will be there when you need them.—I Value Mine.

Dear Value: You are a wise woman. I'd like you for a friend. Thanks for sharing.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm an unwed mother who would like to wring your neck. For the 20th time you ran a letter expressing your rotten opinion that it is best to give an out-of-wedlock child up for adoption. For the 20th time my mother handed me your column.

My child's father couldn't marry me (he was married) but promised to pay support. Well, he turned out to be a liar and I've had a rough time. But what am I supposed to do now? Drown the kid or give him away like a dog? —No Fan Of Yours

Dear No Fan: At this point, you love him and make the best possible home for him. But at the time you made the decision to keep the child you should have realized that a cheat could also be a liar.

Reaction Mixed Toward Presidential Primary

LANSING (AP) — A bill to establish a presidential primary has received a mixed reception at a hearing before the House Elections Committee.

But both supporters and opponents of the bill Wednesday said there was little satisfaction with the present system.

The bill, introduced by Rep. John Bennett, D-Detroit, also is being circulated as a petition calling for a statewide referendum to decide if voters should be allowed to mark ballots with presidential candidates as well as delegates to the national conventions.

Elect Delegates
The 1968 presidential election sparked widespread dissatisfaction, mostly among Democrats, with the current method of delegate selection, witnesses said. Under the current system, voters must elect county convention delegates two years before those representatives meet in district and state caucuses to pick national convention delegates.

Supporters of the bill said the two-year time lag gives the man on the street too little influence in picking national convention delegates.

John Koza, a member of the New Democratic Coalition and backer of the petition drive, called the present system "one man, no vote." He added that convention delegates "are not responsible to anybody."

August Scholle, state AFL-CIO president, said the bill attempts to meet "many pragmatic problems" but misses the point.

No Change
"People don't seem to understand that this wouldn't change one iota," Scholle said. "An incumbent president wields more influence" in picking delegates than anyone else, he said.

"If people don't realize that they're just politically naive," he added.

Scholle also took issue with a provision of the bill that instructs the secretary of state to include persons on the primary ballot who are "generally advocated or recognized in the national news media" as candidates.

"I shudder at the prospect of having the newspapers publicize the candidates. I think they have too much influence now," he said.

James McNeely, Democratic party state chairman, opposed the bill, saying, "The proposed system would ask the voter his opinion and then ignore it."

Flaws

He identified what he said were two flaws of the bill: 1. Election of national convention delegates by total votes in State Senate districts would violate the one-man, one-vote concept.

2. The proposed election of at-large delegates would be a form of unit rule.

The unit rule, McNeely said, was "abolished with such pride" in 1968. William F. McLaughlin, Republican State Central Committee chairman, opposed the primary as too expensive. He favored a closed primary.

Pass Compromise On Ferris Issue

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan House passed by a 59-54 vote Wednesday a compromise resolution arising from three weeks of fiery debate and parliamentary maneuvering over a racial disturbance at Ferris State College in Big Rapids last month.

The action broke up a deadlock created by Rep. E.D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, who pressed for passage of his original motion commending the Ferris State president for actions which resulted in the arrest of about 260 Negro students.

The compromise motion drafted by Speaker William Ryan, D-Detroit, commends Ferris State president Victor Spatthelf for asking the governor to send State Police to the campus. But it also applauds efforts "to more fully integrate all students into the life of the university" and "improve communications between races."

The resolution also "pledges support to students of all races and administrators of good will in their efforts to provide a stable and constructive educational atmosphere."

The passage may break up a logjam created by the debate allowing the House to consider other matters. However, Ryan said he could not predict whether the House could move on when it returns from Easter recess April 14.

The House was expected to adjourn today.

Horrigan and J. Robert Traxler, D-Bay City, introduced the Ryan compromise.

Vincent J. Pettipren, D-Wayne, chairman of the House Colleges and Universities Committee, said his investigation of the incident could not substantiate O'Brien's claims.

A group of Ferris State students told the Pettipren committee that racial antagonism and student-administration hostility were prime problems behind the disorders. In other action, the House passed and sent to the Senate a bill extending from two to three years the terms of citizens councils dealing with blighted areas. The bill, introduced by Rep. Daisey Elliott, D-Detroit, also raised from 10 to 12 the minimum membership of any district council.

Pleasant Surprise

Spec. 4 Brian Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adams, left Feb. 28 for Oakland, Calif., and Long Bien, Vietnam. About two weeks after his arrival there he was paged in the Servicemen's Club and was surprised to be greeted there by three Bark River boys: Gregg Niquette, company clerk at Saigon, 30 miles away; Jerry Olson, who manifests people on to helopats, Lai Khe, 10 miles away and Richard Konkel, unloading cargo at Newport and stationed within walking distance of Long Bien. The boys will also try to contact Michael Niquette who left March 29 for Vietnam.

Gregg and Michael are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Niquette, Olson is the son of Mrs. Betty Olson and Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Konkel.

Ask To Reject Militant's Bond

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The district attorney's office asked Wednesday that a $25,000 bond for a black militant candidate for City Council be revoked because he was picked up in Detroit after a shootout with police.

Gerald C. Paris, assistant district attorney, told Criminal Court that David Owens violated the conditions of his bond by being in Detroit.

Owens is charged with six different counts growing out of a gun fight with police in the city's Homewood section Oct. 9. Owens was wounded in the thigh and hip during the exchange. A companion was also wounded.

Paris said that Owens, his wife and another woman were arrested in Detroit last Saturday after a gunfight at a church that left one policeman dead and five other persons wounded.

All three, who had been attending a meeting of the Republic of New Africa, at the church, were arrested by Detroit police and later released without charges being placed against them.

Owens, once a co-ordinator for Urban League program to develop the Negro Homewood-Brushton section, was endorsed for City Council by the local chapter of the Americans for Democratic Action.

Mao's In Final Effort To Remake His Nation

TOKYO (AP) — Red China's ninth Communist party congress, which opened in Peking Tuesday, is Mao Tse-tung's last great effort to remake his nation.

In the early days of his 20-year-old regime, when he held the reins of both the party and the government, he sought to impose his will through both. Rebellions in the army and at the top of the Communist hierarchy blasted his dreams.

In 1966, placing his faith in a great mass movement dubbed

Suspect Revenge In Skelton Killing

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Ann Arbor Police Chief Walter Krasny said Wednesday the murder of 16-year-old Maralynn Skelton of Romulus might be a revenge killing.

Krasny said police have found some discrepancies in stories told by friends of the girl who was found slain near Ann Arbor last week. She is the fourth young woman to be killed in the area in the past two years.

Krasny says some of the persons already interviewed about the slaying have been visibly shaken by the questioning. He said he suspects some of the girl's friends might know more than they are telling police.

Krasny also reported police might have a good lead on the killer of Jane Mixer of Muskegon. The University of Michigan law school coed was found slain near Ann Arbor one week before the Skelton murder.

Raccoons Poor At Jaywalking

LANSING (AP) — The clever-looking Raccoon hasn't much sense when it comes to jaywalking, according to a survey made by one southern Michigan county.

Ionia County made a painstaking count of bird and animal deaths on its highways and reported the findings to the State Highway Department.

The county road commission found that 459 raccoons were killed on highways last year. This was still 60 less than counted in 1965, the last time the county made such a survey.

Highway traffic in the county also took the lives of 228 squirrels, 149 opossums and 90 deer. The deer fatalities doubled from 45 in 1965.

Other animals killed on Ionia County highways last year included 94 cats, 64 dogs, 59 rabbits and 54 skunks.

Graduate 51 New Troopers

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State Police graduated 51 recruits to probationary trooper status Wednesday to bring the department's enlisted strength to 1,755 men.

This is the highest trooper strength in State Police history and only five below the authorized strength of 1,760.

Two Negro troopers were among the graduates, doubling the number of Negroes on the force to four.

'Very Concerned' Says Milliken Of Crockett Action

LANSING (AP)—Gov. William Milliken said Wednesday he was "extremely concerned" about allegations involving Recorder's Court Judge George Crockett's handling of persons arrested after a Detroit policeman was slain last weekend.

"I'm not going to make any judgment at this point," Milliken told a news conference. "Except that based upon what I know, I'm very concerned."

Milliken "strongly encouraged" the newly established Judicial Tenure Commission to investigate the situation.

The State Senate urged similar action by the commission in a hotly debated resolution passed Tuesday.

Another resolution, introduced in the House by Rep. E.D. O'Brien D-Detroit, called on Milliken to remove Crockett from office, but Milliken said "it is my understanding that the governor does not have the power to do this."

If the Legislature, by a two-thirds vote, ordered such action, Milliken added, he would be mandated to act.

Milliken said his concern stemmed from the fact that the slaying involved "a violent situation," that arrests were made and that allegations suggested persons in custody were released "almost before" the facts were known.

Nugent Leaves Vietnam Medaled

SAIGON (AP) — One of ex-President Lyndon B. Johnson's sons-in-law left Vietnam for home Wednesday with a medal.

Airman 1. C. Patrick J. Nugent, married to Johnson's daughter Luci, completed his year of Vietnam duty and took a plane for Bergstrom Air Force Base in Texas. He will be discharged there.

He was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross while loadmaster of a C123 loaded with troops on Jan. 2.

An Air Force spokesman said the two-engine transport had 55 soldiers of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division aboard when it came under mortar attack. But Nugent and the other crew members accomplished their mission "without battle damage or crew injury," the citation said.

Johnson's other son-in-law, Marine Maj. Charles Robb, is scheduled to leave Vietnam later this month. Robb, served about six months as a company commander and now has a staff job at the headquarters of the 1st Marine Division.

Traffic Deaths Up

EAST LANSING (AP) — State Police report Michigan had 165 traffic deaths in March, 10 more than the average for the month over the past five years and one more than the same month a year ago. The highest monthly fatal toll for March was 179 in 1966.

PRESIDENT NIXON'S revision of the Johnson administration's proposed Sentinel system has given the antiballistic missile project a new look and a new label — Safeguard. The new plan shifts the defense shield from cities previously designated as Sentinel sites, indicated on map, to key points in the nation's nuclear deterrent complex — Minuteman intercontinental ballistic missile sites, air bases and the Polaris submarine base at Charleston. Work will begin on two sites, Malmstrom and Grand Forks, first and another 12, indicated on map plus Hawaii and Alaska, later. Sites will be equipped with both Spartan rockets, to intercept attacking missiles up to 400 miles from the target, and short-range Sprints, to pick off missiles missed by the Spartans.

'Absolute Zero' Offering Help

DETROIT (AP) — "We want to help Detroit," agreed 40 persons in their late teens. So they consulted the telephone directory and repeated the words to 14 city offices and charitable organizations—and were turned down every time.

This week Mary Bell, executive secretary for the Mayor's Committee for the Cultural Center put them in touch with three inner city clergymen.

Composed of suburban Detroit college and high school students, the 40 were drawn together and given a name through a coffee house, the "Absolute Zero." The group also offered $1,500, the Birmingham coffeehouse's profit since last July, to the charitable organizations.

"Now all we have to do is pick a project and get to work," said spokesman Terri Lane, 19, of Monte Vista.

So far they have been offered work ranging from scrubbing windows to tutoring school children.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Clement H. Kern, pastor of Holy Trinity Church said "our need is great and I'm thrilled by your offer."

Chicago March For Free Speech

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit group promoting a march for peace this weekend in Chicago said Wednesday some 2,000 persons have made reservations for transportation from Detroit to Chicago.

The Detroit April 5th Action Committee has ordered 13 buses and plans to ask for more, said Mrs. Edith Gbur, secretary of the group.

The Chicago march is one of seven planned throughout the country as a demonstration in favor of free speech for servicemen and against the war in Vietnam.

Draft Law Violates Rights Says Judge

BOSTON (AP) — A federal judge says the 1967 draft law violates the constitutional rights of atheists and agnostics by allowing conscientious objector status for religious reasons only.

"It is difficult to imagine any grounds for this statutory discrimination except religious discrimination," said U.S. District Court Judge Charles E. Wyzanski Jr.—and that, he held, is counter to the First Amendment.

The First Amendment states that "Congress shall make no law respecting the establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof."

Judge Wyzanski's ruling came in the case of John H. Sisson, 22, of Lincoln, Mass., recently convicted of violating the Selective Service Act by refusing induction into the armed forces. Sisson said he regarded the Vietnam war as "illegal and immoral."

Sisson came before the court for sentencing, but instead Wyzanski stayed sentence pending a decision by the U.S. Supreme Court on the question raised.

"Sisson is not in a formal sense a religious conscientious objector," the judge said. "His claim may seem less weighty than that of one who embraces a creed which recognizes a Supreme Being, and which has as part of its training and discipline opposition to war in any form."

Pipe 'Soul Music' Into Classrooms

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — "Soul music" has been blaring from the speaker system this week at Union High School in Grand Rapids, following a suggestion by the students.

In the novel experiment top rock tunes are piped into the classrooms for the last five minutes of each class period.

Principal George Cleveland, who was appointed to his post in January, said the idea created concern from some teachers and parents.

But he said, "This is the first time the kids have requested anything since I've been here. It was done in very orderly fashion and I was not about to hammer down on it without giving it a try."

Although rock music predominates, Cleveland said that more refined music also will be played. After a one-week trial Cleveland said he would decide whether to continue the musical interludes.

Lincoln Frazier Named GOP Chairman In 11th

Mack Attacks: Huhtala Resigns

By WILLIAM KULSEA
In Booth Newspapers

The kind of politics Joe Mack plays isn't in the civic books; It's hard, raw and ruthless and it crosses party lines.

A Democratic state senator from the 38th district, which covers 9½ counties in the western end of the Upper Peninsula, Mack is no stranger to capers beyond political reason. He is the same Mack who last fall, on inspection tour of coho fishing off Manistique and left in his wake a series of unpaid motel bills, which since have been honored. But only after public exposure. It really was a vacation at taxpayers' expense.

Mack's latest shenanigans would make a Tammany Hall agent wince. And it involves a Republican in the western end of the Upper Peninsula who has labored hard and long for the GOP.

Ralph Huhtala of Kingsford has been busy with GOP politics in his area for many years. His most recent position was GOP chairman of the 11th district. He had served with distinction on the State Reapportionment Commission, and when that group carved up Michigan's legislative districts Mack objected, but not too harshly. He didn't get hurt too much.

It was when Huhtala was put on the State Officers Compensation Commission that he got into trouble with Mack. The commission's final conclusion was that legislators receive $15,000 a year salary and $3,000 expenses. Mack screamed his head off, pointing out that he would lose money because of his long travel cost between Lansing and Ironwood, his hometown. He blamed Huhtala, personally.

Huhtala is employed by a company which supplies equipment to mining companies in the Upper Peninsula. Mack, with his unerring instinct for the jugular, knew where to go. He contacted mining company officials, scorching Huhtala. They, in turn, went to Huhtala's employer, who instructed Huhtala to get out of politics. It doesn't make any difference in the U.P. apparently, whether you're a Democrat or Republican. The buck rules the economy and politics up there.

That's why last Feb. 14-15, while in Grand Rapids at the state GOP convention, Huhtala gavelled his district into order and resigned "for personal reasons." He walked out of the caucus and, for all intents and purposes, out of the party.

Mack's source of power and influence in the U.P. is built around copper mines, the officials of the mines including many Republicans. However, in the last five years, Mack, a Democrat, has obtained legislation exempting copper mines from water pollution control laws, which are supposed to cover all Michigan mining operations.

He's the same Joe Mack, who for years has fought for a law to have a road cut through the Porcupine Mountains, to allow logging of virgin timber. He's the same Joe Mack, who for years has gotten "regional legislation" for the U.P. and who

Editor's Note:

The accompanying article was written by William C. Kulsea, Lansing bureau chief, for the Booth Newspapers of Lower Michigan. The accompanying statement by Ralph Huhtala, concerning his decision to withdraw as a candidate for the 11th Congressional District Republican chairmanship at the state convention in Grand Rapids in February, was issued today to the Escanaba Daily Press.

Huhtala's statement:

"It was my own personal decision to withdraw my candidacy for 11th District chairman after having served my party for 12 years. Following consultation with my employees, I decided that my own interests, along with those of my employer, the employees and shareholders of Lake Shore, Inc., and the communities in which Lake Shore operates, would best be served by my withdrawal.

"Another factor influencing my decision was the fact that I had been given added job responsibilities in Lake Shore's advertising and public relations program and the demands of this job would have precluded my doing an adequate job for the Republicans in the 11th District.

"The dissatisfaction expressed by certain Democratic legislators over the determination of the 7 member State Officers Compensation Commission, of which I am a member, prompted me to make this decision sooner than might otherwise have been the case."

Milliken's Light Spouts Fire

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken was putting the finishing touches on his education message to the Legislature Wednesday night when a fizz, puff, smoke.

An electrical fire began in the chandelier hanging over Milliken's desk.

Firemen were called to the governor's Capitol building offices about 7:20 p.m. when the "small flame" popped out from a hanging fluorescent fixture.

The smell of smoke pervaded the gubernatorial offices and an outside hallway.

"Make sure no one uses this light switch," a departing fireman told members of the governor's staff.

The light, about three feet square, some 10 feet above and slightly in front of the governor's desk, is the principal light source for the room.

Aides said the governor left after being assured the mishap was under control.

"He was the last one out of the office," aides said.

Lincoln B. Frazier, in his new post as Republican chairman of the 11th congressional district, already has started preparations for formation of strong, grass-roots units which will work for promotion of state, congressional and district candidates in the 1970 elections.

The Marquette GOP leader announced today that he already has held one meeting with Chippewa County party leaders in Sault Ste. Marie and that similar sessions will be held in other areas throughout the district. The 11th district includes all 15 Upper Peninsula counties and seven counties in the northern part of Lower Michigan.

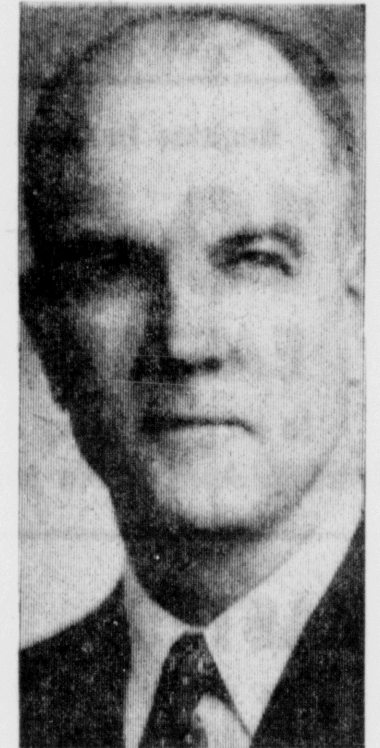

Frazier, who was elected successor to Ralph Huhtala of Kingsford at the recent convention in Grand Rapids, said the Republican Party viewed the 1970 elections as "important" and hoped to present a strong state of candidates to voters.

He said he was encouraged by the interest Gov. William G. Milliken already has shown in the Upper Peninsula and that he and other party officials hoped for conferences with the state's chief executive to discuss regional problems during his next visit to the U.P. in May.

Other District Officers
Elected with Frazier to serve as 11th district officers were Mrs. Robert Henderson, Cheboygan, vice chairman; Herbert Corey, Stephenson, treasurer, and Mrs. Walter North, St. Ignace, secretary.

Regional chairmen under Frazier are Ralph H. Bertz, Rogers City, who is serving the seven-county area in Lower Michigan; John Walbridge, Escanaba, east half of U.P., and Edmund Vandette, Houghton, west half of U.P.

Frazier said he would use his

Name Keating Ambassador

KEY BISCAIYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon announced today his choices for four important ambassadorships, including the dispatching of former Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of New York to India.

In addition to tagging Keating to replace Chester Bowles in New Delhi, Nixon will nominate career diplomat William Leonhart as ambassador to Yugoslavia, former Republican Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska as envoy to Finland, and New Hampshire businessman Robert C. Hill to replace former Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York as ambassador to Spain.

Keating, 68, after a number of terms in the House, was a senator from New York from 1958 to 1965. Bowles had served twice as ambassador to India, most recently since 1963.

Leonhart, 49, has been in the foreign service since 1944 and once served as a special assistant to former President Lyndon B. Johnson. He will succeed X. Burke Elbrick, envoy in Belgrade since 1964. Elbrick will take another diplomatic post, that will be announced later.

Congress Works Half The Hours With Higher Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress began its second extended vacation of the young session today, expecting to make up for the inactivity that marked its opening months when it returns from a 10-day Easter recess.

Most legislative machinery has been standing idle since the session started in January because, the lawmakers say, they couldn't really get going until President Nixon came up with his money requests.

"Until the administration really directs what they want, it means these people up here have nothing to do but tread water," a Democratic aide said. But Nixon is said to have assured congressional leaders he will have his budget proposals ready shortly after the lawmakers return to Capitol Hill April 14.

The over-all White House target is for a budget totaling $193 billion to $194 billion.

Republicans argue the Johnson budget of $195.3 billion was artificially low and contend that spending requirements which cannot be changed, such as interest on the national debt, were underestimated.

They contend the GOP administration inherited a $197 billion budget and actually is making substantial reductions.

From Jan. 3 to March 31, the first 87 days of the new Congress, the Senate met on 38 days, the House on 46.

That added up to nearly 134 hours of Senate sessions, compared with some 274 a year earlier. House sessions ran to about 85 hours, compared with 148.

The legislators, who also took a 10-day break for Lincoln's Birthday in February, have very little to show in the way of solid accomplishments from this time.

Passage of a bill raising the federal debt ceiling, approval of a handful of appropriation measures and enactment of an

Elly Peterson Named To Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton of Maryland, chairman - designate of the Republican National Committee, today named Elly Peterson of Charlotte, Mich., as assistant chairman.

Mrs. Peterson, unsuccessful Senate nominee in 1964, also served as assistant GOP chairman that year. She succeeded Mary Brooks, named by President Nixon last Friday as director of the U.S. Mint.

Morton and Mrs. Peterson are expected to take office April 14 following the committee meeting here.

Mrs. Peterson stepped down earlier this year as chairman of the Michigan Republican Central Committee.

Iron River Miner Killed

IRON RIVER (AP)—A veteran miner was killed Wednesday night in an Upper Peninsula iron mine just northwest of Iron River.

He was Alfred Dinkle, 51, of Iron River. Mine officials said he was crushed by a rock-fall while working on the 13th level of the Hanna Mining Co.'s Horn Mine, about 1,800 feet down. His partner, Arthur Ball of Gastrea, suffered minor injuries.

Senate OKs Bill Allowing Donors For Transplants

LANSING (AP) — A Uniform Anatomical Gift Act — setting up procedures by which people may help others live longer — Passed the Michigan Senate Wednesday and moved to the House.

The bill had been the subject of an emotion-filled Senate committee hearing at which kidney transplant recipient Charles Mundy, 22, told of the precious extension of life afforded patients who get transplants.

Passed 30-0, the bill provides that a person of sound mind, 18 years of age or older, may offer all or part of his body for use in transplants after his death. A donor would sign an agreement, witnessed by two persons, authorizing the gift.

A deceased person's spouse, immediate family or other authorized individual also would be allowed to offer donations.

Not Liable
Under the bill, a person who "acts in good faith" would not be liable for damages in any court action connected with transplants. Some lawyers had objected to the section, saying it would exempt from punishment any doctor who operated under questionable circumstances.

The Senate defeated a bill that would mandate the governor and other state officials to meet for discussions of "crime and social disorder" in the state.

Sen. George Kuhn, R-Birmingham, called for reconsideration of the 17-12 vote by which the Senate turned down a State Internal Security Council. That vote was set for April 18.

Kuhn cited the "two tragic riots in Detroit in 1943 and 1967," and violence that claimed the life of a young Detroit policeman last weekend. "There is a serious and great need for this type of council," Kuhn contended.

Bill "Useless"
"This is a useless bill," reported Sen. Harry Demaso, R-Battle Creek. "I don't think the Legislature has any business telling the executive council branch when they must meet."

The bill called for the governor to meet weekly with the lieutenant governor, attorney general, State Police director and chief of the State Military Affairs Department.

The Senate postponed final action on a measure aimed at keeping convicted felons off police forces.

Also passed by the Senate and sent to the House were bills to:

—Allow husbands and wives to make written agreements waiving their rights to each other's estates. Under the bill, a widow who wanted to leave her estate to her children could enter a second marriage and be sure her property would stay in her own family, it was explained.

—Expand the law against glue sniffing by including chemical agents containing toxic chemicals or organic solvents or both.

—Allow colleges and universities to sell bonds to finance parking lots, repayable from income.

The Senate also passed a House-approved bill specifying that county boards of supervisors should hold organizational meetings to elect officers at the start of each year.

Americans Lose 312 In Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command confirmed today that the number of Americans killed in action in the Vietnam war exceeded the number in the Korean war by the end of last week.

The command said 312 Americans were killed in action last week, increasing the total American combat deaths to 33,641 since Jan. 1, 1961. There were 33,629 Americans killed in action in the Korean war.

Sources earlier this week disclosed that the number of Americans killed in Vietnam had surpassed the number of combat dead in Korea, but the official figures were not available until today in the weekly casualty summary.

U.S. headquarters also reported that 1,593 Americans were wounded in action last week, pushing to 210,639 the total number of Americans wounded in the war. In Korea, the number of U.S. wounded was put at 103,285.

Freshman Pays Minister's Fee

BALDWIN, Kan. (AP)—Eighteen-year-old Susie Leake is attending Baker University as a freshman to pay the fee for the minister's services at her parents' wedding 32 years ago.

Miss Leake is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Leake of Kansas City, Mo., who were living in Detroit, Mich., when they were married in Depression era 1937.

After the ceremony the Methodist minister told them that in lieu of a cash fee they could send their first child to Baker, a Methodist-related school.

Years went by and Leakes had no children.

In 1948 the Leakes moved to Kansas City, and their first child, Susie, was born Oct. 6, 1950.

"My parents didn't make me come to Baker, it was just mutually agreed," said Miss Leake. "I wanted to come to Baker. I love it and want to spend all four of my college years here."

She plans to be an elementary teacher.

Detroit Tiger Wives Welcome Florida Sun

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — find us a place but there just weren't any." Mrs. Horton stayed at the Holiday Inn with her two children for a week. Several other Tiger families stay there and others find apartments in the area. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lasher have their own trailer in a near-by camp.

"It is almost impossible to live in a motel with your children," Mrs. Horton added. "If they want a glass of milk at 7 a.m. they don't understand that the restaurant isn't open."

Delay This Year

Fourteen wives made the trip with their husbands this year, although the player-owner dispute delayed the arrival for spring training of most of the players.

"I always look forward to coming to Florida," said Connie Sparma, wife of Tiger pitcher Joe Sparma. "Just having sunshine is enough for me."

About half of the wives stay at Lakeland's Acorn Motel, primarily because of its kitchenette units. The players are paid $12 a day by the club for meal money and $4.50 for living expenses, plus an additional $40 a week for spending.

Expensive

If a family has to eat out three times a day, seven-days a week it amounts to quite a bit of money.

However, for Pat Horton the situation was different and she has since returned to Detroit because of an inability to find a place to stay.

"It's impossible to find a place down here for colored people," said the wife of Tiger slugger Willie Horton. "Last year I was down here 10 days and it was like a vacation because we did a lot of sightseeing. But this year I wasn't able to find suitable housing."

No Place To Stay

Las Vegas Music Aims For Older Crowd

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The miniskirts and new cars would tell you it was 1969. But in Las Vegas showrooms this week the music had the sound of the 1940s. The casinos were aiming frankly for the older crowd.

From Guy Lombardo at the south end of the Strip to Fred Waring downtown, nostalgia-seeking tourists turned back the clock to hear "All of Me," "A Cottage for Sale" and "It's a Lonesome Old Town."

Russ Morgan, Sarah Vaughan, Duke Ellington, Harry James, Louis Prima, Ray Anthony and Sy Zentner are some of the others headlining the marquees.

And hotels were booking such names as Lionel Hampton, Woody Herman, Orrin Tucker and Freddy Martin.

"A younger entertainer might draw a larger audience," said Tropicana executive Harvey

Diederich. "But I think Lombardo were composed before most of do brings in an audience with more money."

Waring, appearing at the Fremont, says popular music got "pretty far out for a while" but that new writers are "settling down to writing about people, they're writing folk. Some of it's simply great."

While Lombardo plays the same music he did 30 years ago, may get, there'll always be a Harry James plays newer numbers such as "Hey Jude" at the give me an active olderster to a Frontier. But many of his songs tired teen-ager any day."

LIFT TIPS

Everyday we have an occasion to lift many things... boxes, shopping bags, briefcases, books, etc. The A.M.A. says "Before that too-heavy bundle lifts you off your feet and puts you on your back, be sure you can handle it."

Here are some of the basic rules on lifting:

1. Stand close to the object, feet about 12 inches apart and flat on the floor.
2. Keep your spine straight, bend knees and grasp object.
3. Lift by straightening your legs. (Do not pull upwards with your arms and back.)

4. Face the direction in which you plan to carry the object, its weight will pull you in the right direction.

5. When lifting an object higher than your head, keep your back straight and in line with your hips. This can prevent a backward fall or a sprain from arching.

A basic rule in having your prescriptions filled is to bring them to GROOS DRUG STORE where prescriptions are a specialty not a sideline. GROOS DRUG STORE, 1007 Ludington Ct. Phone ST 6-3552.

HAPPY EASTER... Gibson Greeting Cards, Whitman Candy, Prescription Delivery, Family Record Tax Plan.

This Week's Helpful Hint: Lifting requires 32 times the energy of pushing. So relax and push when possible. Keep your spine straight... Your hips low... and push the object from its center weight.

LOOK SMART, NOT CUTE

The key to being stylish is looking "smart" never "cute." If you're still hanging on to that adorable animal pin or your cheerleading charm bracelet, keep them for sentimental value if you have to, but don't repeat don't, wear them. They may create an unforgettable impression, but it's for sure you'll never be labeled chic wearing them.

Deserves Defeat If No Tax Reform

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Michigan woman member of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee says she and her colleagues in Congress deserve to be defeated if it is still possible a year from now to receive a big income and pay no tax.

The remark by Rep. Martha Griffiths, D-Mich., came during discussion of a proposed minimum tax to be levied on large incomes even though provisions of present law would make them tax-exempt.

Walker Winter of Chicago, a vice president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce opposed the principle of the minimum tax.

Mrs. Griffiths, only woman among the 25 committee members, recalled testimony by John D. Rockefeller III that, although his philanthropies entitled him to complete tax exemption, he voluntarily paid some tax each year.

"That is incredible," Mrs. Griffiths said. "In my opinion if there is anybody who can tell that story in 1970, he ought to be telling it to 25 new people . . . we ought to be beaten."

Winter said the minimum tax "has been suggested primarily as a means of obtaining additional revenue from a relatively small number of persons." He said Congress should decide whether some of the tax provisions enabling large incomes to escape levies are improper, but should not penalize those who take advantage of the provisions as long as they are on the books.

He came out also against changes in provisions for oil and other mineral depletion, capital gains, stock options, and accelerated real estate depreciation.

Winter urged Congress to study a tax used by several European countries, as a possible substitute for part of the income tax. This is a sort of sales tax imposed at successive levels in the conversion of raw materials into final products.

The committee heard testimony that individuals have found ways to make tax shelters of the investment tax credit. This is a provision enacted to encourage the modernization of U.S. plants by permitting businesses to deduct from their tax bills 7 per cent of the cost of new equipment.

Taxpayers Revolt In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A taxpayers' revolt is growing in Pennsylvania against increased state spending and mandates that force a boost in local taxes.

A spokesman for the 1,000-member Fayette County Tax Protest Committee warned Wednesday that thousands of Pennsylvanians are prepared to go to jail rather than pay their share of Gov. Raymond P. Shafer's proposed record $2.52 billion state budget, to be financed in part by an income tax of about 2 per cent.

"If the present trend continues for the next 10 years, there will just not be enough wages or property left to tax," William E. Duffield, chairman of the committee and a Uniontown lawyer, told the state House Appropriations Committee.

Duffield was highly critical of state mandated tax increases paid for at the local level.

"Our mining company towns are dilapidated . . . yet each school budget increases because of mandated spending from Harrisburg," he said. "On each new school there are thousands of dollars spent before a spade of dirt is turned . . . and should our local school districts want to economize, Harrisburg threatens to cut off state aid."

Tonka Has His Day In Court

BRUNNA (AP)—Tonka had his day in Shawnee County Circuit Court earlier this week, and the verdict was innocent.

Not so the outcome of the hearing for Jack E. Shears, 41, of Cornua, who was fingered, not clawed or bitten, by the Michigan State Police tracking dog.

Shears, who weighs 110 pounds, had claimed he was frightened into a statement to police by the presence of the "vicious" 100-pound dog after being flushed from a warehouse.

But a court demonstration in which Tonka's only comment was a slight whine, convinced a judge the dog is trained to track, not attack, people, and Shears was bound over for trial with bond set at $1,500.

Fails To File

DETROIT (AP) — An Auburn Heights lawyer has been charged with failing to file income tax returns for the years 1962 through 1965, the Internal Revenue Service said Wednesday.

The service said Ronald G. Graham had an income of $58,000 for the period.

Dave Davenport of the Green Bay Press-Gazette sports staff was bringing to mind the famous 55-foot shot by Lamont Weaver of Beloit in the recent Wisconsin State Championship finals when he recalled that the same thing had once happened to Jim Ward, former general manager of the Escanaba Daily Press and now a Press-Gazette staff writer.

It seems Ward did the same thing once for Kemper Military School in the finals of the Missouri Junior College Conference tournament when the center jump was still used after any scoring. Kemper was trailing Hannibal LaGrange, 17-16, but took the ball out of bounds under its own basket with two or three seconds left. The ball was passed to Ward and from mid-court he let fly with a highly arched two-hander that swished through the nets for the winning points at the buzzer.

George Bonfield, a freshman at Michigan State University from Escanaba, finished second in Division I of the 1969 Michigan State Intramural Judo tournament. George, pre-med major, is the son of Mrs. George Bonfield Sr., of 130 First Ave. S., Escanaba.

Ted Rose, Northern Michigan University junior forward, was the 20th highest scoring National College Athletic Association college division basketball player this season. The 6 foot 6 inch Rose, who had a high game of 54 points against Central Michigan, netted 571 points in 22 games for a 26 point average. He is Northern Michigan's all-time scoring leader with 1,421 career points and is captain-elect for the 1969-70 season.

Bob Krysiak, the 1969 U. P. Coach of the Year from Menominee, has a five-year record of 58 victories and 20 defeats as head mentor of the Maroons. He became head coach in 1964 and since then his teams have won four straight district and three straight U. P. crowns, along with a state title in 1967. The Maroons were 18-3 this past season.

Jack W. Highberger of Chesterton, Ind., will replace Tom Greenhoe as sports information director at Michigan Tech University. Highberger has had wide experience in the radio and newspaper fields and his position previous to joining Michigan Tech's staff was with the Gary (Ind.) Post Tribune as a reporter. Highberger is a graduate of Butler University with a major in radio broadcasting. Greenhoe has accepted a position as assistant sports information director at the University of Minnesota.

Robert Hirschenberger has been appointed as head football coach at Sault Ste. Marie High School. Hirschenberger has completed nine years as a member of the football staff at Sault High under A. J. VanCitters, Woody Ludwig and Ernest Kranz. He played four years of football at Dye High School in Flint and received all-conference and all-county honors. He also played varsity football at Central Michigan University.

Alcindor Signs; To Change Style

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — The bidding war for the services of UCLA's Lew Alcindor has officially ended with the 7-foot-1½ center signing a Milwaukee Bucks contract and announcing he'll change his style of play.

With contentment etched on his face, a poised Alcindor autographed a document Wednesday that would make him a millionaire and, reportedly, a part owner in the National Basketball Association expansion team.

Terms of the contract were not disclosed by John Erickson, the Bucks' vice president and general manager, who said "This contract is very fair."

Lew said he chose the NBA's Milwaukee "because their offer was more stable and more lucrative than one by the American Basketball Association."

Asked if Lew also received stock in the contract, Erickson said, "I have no comment to make about that."

The signing came less than two weeks after Lew had led UCLA to a history-making third straight national collegiate title. He did it with what his college coach John Wooden called "a most unselfish attitude." Will that style of play change?

"I have a few ideas of my own about playing in the pros," said Alcindor.

"I'm going to work out on my own this summer—before I go to camp. I've got a few things to work on, things I haven't tried before."

He said some of the centers in the league use moves toward the basket that are "too rudimentary" and he said he would try to be a little more of "a freer lancer." He indicated that variety would be the spice of his game.

Larry Costello, Milwaukee's first-year coach, said he would play the talented giant "at the low post, to take advantage of his talents there. But he's a team player and I think variety is important."

"So we'll use him on the high post, low post and try to create some pick-and-roll situations," Lew said he was happy that now "I can play the game the way it was originally thought to be played," referring to the numerous stall games he faced at UCLA.

Explosive Phil Exposito and the rest of the short-fuse Boston Bruins gave Toronto a dose of their speciality—plenty of fists and plenty of goals. The boisterous Bruins stormed to a 10-0 romp over the hapless Maple Leafs in the opening game of their first round National Hockey League best-of-7 Stanley Cup playoff.

In other openers, Montreal tripped New York 3-1, St. Louis downed Philadelphia 5-2 and Los Angeles outlasted Oakland 5-4 in overtime.

Exposito, who set a scoring record with an incredible 126 regular season points, tied a playoff mark with six points on four goals and two assists, leading Boston's romp. Johnny Bucyk and Cerek Sanderson also had two goals apiece for the Bruins, who set a record with 303 goals during the regular season.

The Bruins, who revel in tough stuff, got plenty of action from the Maple Leafs. Referee John Ashley tagged Toronto with 76 minutes in penalties including 10 minors, five majors and three misconducts. The Bruins were well-behaved by comparison with only 56 minutes on 10 minors, four majors and one misconduct.

Pat Quinn, rookie defenseman for the Leafs, decked Boston's Bobby Orr with an elbow that left the Bruin defenseman stretched out on the ice. When he got the penalty box, Quinn became embroiled with fans and the Leaf bench emptied to join him in the battle. Police had to break up that confrontation.

Later, Forbes Kennedy took on Boston goalie Gerry Cheevers and all he got for his trouble was a minor, two majors and game misconduct as well as some lumps from John McKenzie, who came to Cheevers' aid.

Montreal and New York had a much more sedate game with tough checking and strong goal-tending dominating until John Ferguson's goal won it for the Canadiens with less than seven minutes left.

By The Associated Press

Ferguson shoved a short shot past Ranger goalie Ed Giacomin just six seconds before the end of a Ranger penalty and snapped a 1-1 tie. Then Henri Richard's carom shot slid 150 feet into an empty Ranger net for the clincher with 40 seconds left and Giamin off for an extra attacker.

Montreal's Jacques Lemaire and New York's Jean Ratelle had traded goals in the first two periods.

Jacques Plante, pressed into action when St. Louis goalie Glenn Hall pulled a hamstring in his right leg, surrendered a quick goal but then settled down to ease the Blues past Philadelphia.

Hall, who is expected to miss tonight's second game, was hurt at 10:48 of the first period with St. Louis leading on goals by Abe McDonald and Tim Eccelstone.

Bill Sutherland beat Plante at 12:13 on a power play but then the Blues' goalie took charge and goals by Larry Keenan, Camille Henry and Terry Gray carried St. Louis to a 5-1 edge before Dick Cherry's late goal for the Flyers.

Ted Irvine's goal at 19 seconds of sudden death overtime enabled Los Angeles to edge Oakland. Mike Laughton of the Seals had sent the game into the extra period by scoring with less than three minutes to play in regulation time.

Ed Joyal and Gary Croteau collected two goals each for the Kings, whose regular goalie, Jerry Desjardins, was sidelined in the first period with a pulled muscle. Wayne Rutledge finished up in the nets for Los Angeles.

Reed Paces Knicks To Sweep Of Bullets

By The Associated Press

Willis Reed did his homework and as a result the Baltimore Bullets are wearing the National Basketball Association's dunce cap today.

Reed, burly 6-foot-10 center of the New York Knickerbockers, poured in a club playoff record 43 points Wednesday night, pacing the third-place Knicks to a 115-108 triumph over the pennant-winning Bullets that completed a four-game sweep of their Eastern Division semifinal series.

The Knicks move into the Eastern finals against the survivor of the Boston-Philadelphia seat, which resumes Friday night in Philadelphia.

In Wednesday night's only other game, Los Angeles squared its Western semifinal with San Francisco at two games apiece with a 103-88 victory. They return to Los Angeles Friday night.

The other Western series continues Friday night with Atlanta at San Diego. The Hawks lead 2-1.

Reed hit on 15 of 29 shots as he erased Cazzie Russell's Knick playoff standard of 40 points.

"I stopped him in the first two games," said Baltimore's Ray Scott of Reed, "but he's a great player and he goes home and does his homework. He studies the man who's guarding him."

"In the first two games I had him going to my strength, away from the basket, but tonight he used his great strength more. He moved me closer to the basket and then, when he gets off, there's nothing you can do to stop the guy."

Scott limited Reed to 35 points in the first two games, but was overwhelmed for 35 in the third game before Wednesday night's explosion.

"If you get the ball in the right spot at the right moment nobody can stop you," Reed explained.

It was the first time the Knicks have ever won four straight playoff games while the proud Bullets, who climbed from last place to first in one year, became the first division champion to be swept in four games.

Baltimore stunned the Knicks by scoring the first 12 points. But the New Yorkers trailed by only 29-25 after one period and it was nip-and-tuck until they went ahead to stay 77-75 on Bill Bradley's basket.

Reed then took over. His bucket gave the Knicks an 86-82 lead and he added seven more points as they increased the lead.

Nixon To Hurl Season Opener

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—President Nixon is expected to throw out the inaugural ball to begin baseball's centennial year Monday.

The traditional presidential opener pairs Washington and the New York Yankees.

The right-handed throw by the former football bench warmer will usher in the 1969 season which is being celebrated as the 100th anniversary of the first baseball club in Cincinnati.

Nixon, a long-time fan, will be making his rookie start as president 16 years after being raided out as a relief pitcher at his first opener.

The centennial inaugural will also mark the debut of Ted Williams, baseball's greatest living hitter, as new manager of the Washington Senators.

Although the White House kept its usual silence on its starting pitcher, there appeared to be little doubt that Nixon will be on hand to continue a baseball tradition that dates back to 1910.

Nixon flew to Florida for an Easter weekend vacation Wednesday after the burial of former president Dwight D. Eisenhower in Kansas, but he planned to return here late Sunday night or Monday morning in time for the game.

Off-Field Deals Top Game Action

By The Associated Press

Donn Clendenon is back with Montreal, Bill White is back with St. Louis and Bo Belinsky is back in the news.

Those developments overshadowed the action on the exhibition baseball playing fields Wednesday.

—Clendenon ended his brief retirement, signed a two-year contract with the Expos and Commissioner Bowie Kuhn said the confusing Montreal-Houston trade could be settled today with the Expos sending the Astros a "player or players."

—The Cardinals reacquired first baseman White from the Philadelphia Phillies for infielder Jerry Buckner and catcher Jim Hutto. White will be primarily a pinch hitter.

—Belinsky was given a mild sedative at St. Petersburg, Fla., and sent back to his hotel after complaining of weakness. "I'm sure this has been a result of all the stress and strain Bo has gone through trying to make another big league club," said Dr. William Jefferey of Mound Park Hospital. The left-handed pitcher was cut by the St. Louis Cardinals a few days ago.

Los Angeles shelled Houston 10-5 in a night exhibition, while in afternoon games St. Louis walloped Detroit 11-3, Atlanta crushed Cincinnati 10-0, Kansas City edged Philadelphia 2-0, San Francisco crushed Cleveland 9-

2, Minnesota nipped Boston 5-4 in 10 innings.

Also the Chicago White Sox blanked the Chicago Cubs 2-0, the New York Yankees took Washington 2-1 in 10 innings, Oakland downed San Diego 8-4, California beat Seattle 6-4, Pittsburgh whipped the New York Mets 7-2 and Montreal turned back the Mets' B team 2-1.

The Dodgers broke a 2-2 tie with three runs in the fifth inning and went on to defeat the Astros. Don Drysdale started for the Dodgers but left in the fourth inning with a strained right arm.

Bob Gibson tuned up for next week's opening day assignment by yielding three runs in seven innings as the Cardinals romped over the Tigers.

Ro Reed, Ken Johnson and George Stone limited Cincinnati to three hits in the Braves' triumph. It was the Reds' third consecutive shutout.

Cookie Rojas' first-inning single off Dave Morehead was the only Philadelphia hit as Morehead, Tom Burgmeier and Dave Wickersham blanked the Phillies for Kansas City.

Willie McCovey socked two home runs, one a grand slam, plus a double and single in the Giants' rout of Cleveland, called after seven innings by mutual agreement. Bobby Bonds also connected for the Giants.

Harmon Killebrew slugged his first spring homer but the Twins needed George Mitterwald's two-out, bases-loaded single in the 10th inning to shade the Red Sox.

Sammy Ellis outpitched Bill Hands as the White Sox topped the Cubs in a game shortened to seven innings by rain. Frank Fernandez hammered a 10th-inning homer to nudge the Yankees by the Senators.

Dick Green's three-run homer paced Oakland over San Diego. Dick Stuart's two-run homer, his fourth of the spring, helped California down Seattle.

The Pirates pushed across four runs in the fifth inning to overtake the Mets. The Expos knocked off the Mets' B team despite five strong innings by sore-shouldered Jerry Kosman.

VERSATILE GLOVE MAN
DETROIT (AP) — Mickey Stanley of the Detroit Tigers proved his versatility during the 1968 baseball season.

Besides playing 130 games in the outfield without making an error, the 26-year-old native of Grand Rapids, Mich., played three other positions for the American League champions. Stanley played 15 games at first base, nine at shortstop and one at second base. He made only four errors in the infield.

In the World Series he started all seven games at shortstop in a daring move by Manager Mayo Smith to get more hitting into his lineup.

Auto Sales Off From Year Ago

DETROIT (AP)—Industry auto sales, during the last 11 days of March were off 8.7 per cent compared to a year ago, but General Motors bucked the trend and registered a slight increase.

There were nine selling days during the period, both this year and last.

A total of 293,317 cars were sold in the United States by all makers during the period, compared to 321,199 last year. The daily rate stood at 32,591 cars. In the mid-March period 253,157 cars were sold.

So far, the automakers have sold 2,327,335 cars this year, compared to 2,224,000 at this time in 1968.

GM sales for the month totaled 380,735, setting a new record of 2,761 units sold per day. In the first quarter of 1969 GM passenger car deliveries totaled 1,090,265, up 8.1 per cent from a year ago.

Cadillac led division sales, with a 14 per cent increase. Following were Chevrolet with 13.5 per cent and Oldsmobile with 8.5 per cent rises.

Chrysler sales led the downward trend in the last period of March, falling 19.4 per cent compared to the comparable 1968 figures. The company sold 55,686 units for the period this year compared to 69,053 last. But recent sales were up from the mid-March period, when 42,856 cars were delivered.

Ford Motor Co. officials, even with their sales down 16.6 per cent in the period, are bullish about the outlook of the industry and their company.

They are waiting for the April 17 arrival of the Maverick, Ford's new compact designed to compete with imports in the $2,000 range.

The Maverick, according to Naughton, Ford Division general manager, "is going to help us reach our target of 21 per cent" of the U.S. market.

American Motors sales also went down. AMC sold 8,169 for the period compared to 9,680 last year. Mid-March 1969 sales totaled 7,903. Total 1969 sales are 61,712; 64,088 had been sold last year at this time.

Ford set a first quarter truck sales record for the company by delivering 179,152 trucks in 1969.

First tree products used by man were fruits, nuts and fuel wood.

Deny Move To Stop Volunteers Making Patrols

HAZEL PARK (AP)—A Circuit Court judge has rejected a bid by Hazel Park policemen to keep civil defense volunteers from riding in squad cars with full-time policemen.

The policemen sought the injunction in the court of Judge Philip Pratt who said he would hold another hearing on the matter May 6 because pleadings offered Wednesday were not adequate.

The volunteers have accompanied policemen which the officers feel is a violation of city ordinance. A hearing on a similar suit against the city of Livonia is to be heard Friday in Wayne County Circuit Court.

Bill Eliminates School Census

LANSING (AP)—Gov. William Milliken has signed into law a bill eliminating the mandatory requirement that local school districts conduct an annual school census.

Under the previous school code, districts were required to make a yearly count of all persons within their borders under the age of 20. The annual census is taken in May.

Paper Signed 'Henry Ford'

DEARBORN (AP)—Since the scrap of paper was signed "Henry Ford" it was saved from the incinerator when an employee of the Dearborn schools cleaned out an old vault.

"I wish to acknowledge receipt of the bell used in the old Miller School House which I had the privilege of attending in my early days," Ford's letter, dated Dec. 1, 1920, said. "I can assure you of your genuine appreciation of your kindness in saving this for me...and will endeavor to make such use of it as will be fitting for its lasting memory."

The letter was given to the Henry Ford Museum and an officer said Wednesday it might be placed in the museum library or in the replica of the gray frame Miller School which Ford attended as a lad of 10 or 11. The replica is in Ford's Greenfield Village at Dearborn.

The bell, unheard from in years, is in storage, museum officials said.

Widow To Lose Custody Of Kids

STERLING HEIGHTS (AP)—Mrs. Sam DiMaggio, who lost her husband a year ago in what was believed to have been a Mafia murder, may lose her four youngest children to a welfare agency which claims she threatened to kill the children and herself.

Mrs. DiMaggio, 35, denied the accusation Wednesday and said the Macomb County Department of Social Services is persecuting her.

One of the four children, 2-year-old Sam Jr., was placed in a foster home temporarily last Friday.

The county agency filed a petition Wednesday in Macomb County Probate Court asking for custody of Sam Jr., and three daughters aged 14 months, five and seven.

The petition says doctors found Mrs. DiMaggio is suffering from severe depression and is in need of long-term treatment. A hearing is scheduled for Monday.

A year ago her husband was taken from their Sterling Heights home by three men who placed him in a car and started beating him as Mrs. DiMaggio watched from a door.

Two hours later DiMaggio was dumped in the street in front of his home. He died the next day of brain injuries.

Police said he had fallen behind on payments on a loan from Mafia figures.

Mrs. DiMaggio testified in proceedings against alleged assassins, one of whom was found guilty of manslaughter and sent to prison. Another awaits trial in Macomb County Circuit Court.

Mich. Eligible For Hospital Funds

LANSING (AP)—The State Health Department reports Michigan will be eligible to receive $9.77 million in federal funds for hospitals and other medical facilities during the next fiscal year.

The money is available for partial financing of new, expanded or modernized health care facilities sponsored by non-profit corporations and governmental agencies.

Michigan has received more than $100 million through the federal program over the past 20 years, the department said.

The department said an itemized list of the communities and hospitals to receive grants will not be released until after it is approved by the U.S. surgeon general.
